

Audition Procedure - UoC College of Music

Step 1: register via <http://www.uoc.cw/collegeofmusic/>, or send an email to college-of-music@uoc.cw

Step 2: invitation for the audition

The auditions for both Bachelor programs and the Preparatory Course of academic year 2017-2018 will take place at the UoC in the week of June 12. You will receive an email with the invitation and additional information. The exact dates of the auditions will be announced in due course on this page.

Step 3: the audition

At the audition we will test your talent, knowledge, skills and development possibilities. The audition consists of a music- theoretical part and a practical part. In the practical part we will test musical hearing, sense of rhythm, improvisation ability, affinity with the music you play, talent development possibilities, and motivation. At the audition you will be required to play for the committee, either with your own band or accompaniment or with a band or accompanist provided to you by College of Music. Prepare at most three pieces from which the teachers can choose. Do indicate which one you absolutely wish to perform! The audition will take about 30 minutes. You will be tested on your theoretical knowledge on the same day.

Step 4: results of the audition

On the basis of the audition, the study programme's management will decide whether you will be admitted. You will be personally notified of their decision via email, within two weeks after the audition.
